Additional information:

Bede's Summer School, which attracts students from 50+ countries between the ages of 6 to 20 years, is a highly successful enterprise and a renowned part of the overall Bede's offering. All staff are challenged, both individually and collectively, to share the Summer School's ethos and actively contribute towards the Summer School achieving its objectives.

The safety and emotional well-being of students is paramount to the success of the Summer School experience and is a key contributor to why parents send their children, and agents send their clients, to Bede's.

The job holder must be committed to providing a first-class welfare, pastoral and medical care service that not only ensures students' physical and emotional well-being but also enables them to feel motivated and empowered to seize every opportunity whilst at Bede's. The Welfare Manager must work collaboratively with the House Parents and Senior House Parents to create a home-from-home that fosters respect, understanding, and inclusiveness within a massively culturally diverse environment.

Assuming overall responsibility for the safety and well-being of up to 270 students who are away from home is a huge responsibility and the job holder will need wide-ranging skills, experience, and expertise to provide a first-class welfare service for students, achieve and maintain the high standards required and uphold the good name of Bede's Summer School.

Even though Welfare Managers will not usually be medically trained, they will be diagnosing and treating common ailments with homely remedies, administering medication prescribed by a doctor, and overseeing the medical care of sick students in the absence of the Nurse. This is a huge responsibility and requires not only expert organisation skills, much common sense, good observation skills, and a sound understanding of children's needs, but also 100% dedication to the job.

The ability to think quickly, show common sense and pay attention to detail in many different and often unpredictable situations is fundamental for this role. Adaptability and flexibility are critical skills, as is a cheerful, positive, and can-do attitude, which is a prerequisite of the job.

As well as taking responsibility for the delivery of accountabilities under their direct control, all members of the Centre Management Team are expected to make a significant contribution to the overall effectiveness and running of the Summer School. The Managers' Office can get exceptionally busy with many things happening at the same time; as such, high levels of resilience are required by the jobholder, as well as the ability to prioritise work and work accurately and effectively in a fast-paced and often quite demanding office environment.

Much preparation work assigning students to bedrooms before their arrival will be undone when they arrive (as many of them may be unhappy with their assigned room and/or roommate). This can be incredibly frustrating for the Welfare Manager who must implement Bede's accommodation policies, achieve an operationally effective accommodation service, and satisfy as many students as possible.

Welfare Managers will maintain appropriate boundaries between themselves and the House Parents/Senior House Parents under their direct leadership and with whom they come in contact during their duties. This may be particularly challenging for Welfare Managers who are close in age to the staff or who have limited experience in managing a team of residential welfare staff.

Welfare Managers are expected to lead by example and are considered ambassadors of Bede's Summer School. As such, they must contribute to always upholding the good name of Bede's, whether on duty or off duty, in uniform or not. Welfare Managers must act appropriately and do nothing that may compromise or jeopardise the School's excellent reputation in the local, national and international community.

Welfare Managers must also maintain appropriate boundaries between themselves and the students - they can never become students' friends.

The working day is long, intense, and often quite challenging (especially on arrivals days when there is a lot happening at the same time) but it is also varied and fast-paced and of course, living and working with young people can be immensely rewarding.

Even when off duty, Welfare Managers must be willing to “leap into action” in case of any emergency that may arise, especially during the night.

Our goal is to give students an educational, culturally enriching, enjoyable, and memorable summer experience in a safe and supervised setting. We only employ Welfare Managers who are willing to accept this responsibility and who have the necessary wide-ranging skills, experience, disposition, and commitment to help us achieve our goal of being the very best Summer School.
